Family Fun Afternoon Celebrates Child Protection Week

Free entertainment, food and education await families on Saturday 13 September

Families across Brisbane's north are invited to join The Community Place Stafford for a special Child Protection Week celebration on Saturday, September 13, from 2pm to 4pm in Keong Park.

The free family fun afternoon, now in its third year, has been designed to bring the community together while highlighting the important work being done to keep children safe across Queensland.

The afternoon promises something for everyone, with a complimentary sausage sizzle ensuring no one goes hungry. Children will be entertained with free activities and can enjoy hands-on fun at the petting zoo, where they'll have the chance to meet and interact with friendly animals.

Several key organisations will be on hand with information stalls, including Kidsafe Queensland, Queensland Police Service (QPS), State Emergency Service (SES), and Parentline. Families will have the opportunity to speak directly with representatives, ask questions, and collect valuable safety resources.

The event reflects the broader goals of Child Protection Week, which aims to raise awareness about child safety and protection while celebrating the positive role communities play in supporting families.

All activities are free of charge, making it an accessible event for families throughout the area. The Community Place Stafford encourages families to come along and enjoy an afternoon of fun while connecting with local services and fellow community members.

The Family Fun Afternoon runs from 2pm to 4pm on Saturday, September 13 at Keong Park, Stafford.

There's no need to book – just pop in and join the fun. It's the perfect way to relax, unwind, and get those creative juices flowing. See you there!
